Here are some FAQs for ACSME 2016:

How many people are going to ACSME? We have over 110 presentations this year. The names on the mailing list constitute all the authors and co-authors who are represented at ACMSE 2016.

Can I still submit? Unfortunately submissions for presentations have now closed. Speakers, poster presenters, and workshop presenters have been notified of acceptances.

When are the workshops – and what are the topics? A full list of workshops is available at sydney.edu.au/iisme/conference/2016/program.shtml There are 17 workshops in all. You can register for the workshops by title using the website registration facility now. Don’t worry about HAVING to do it now though, there will be more details soon and workshop registration will stay open until very close to the start of the conference.

When does registration close? EARLYBIRD registration closes on 5 August. Speaker spots for the conference will be confirmed at this time for registrants.
Register at sydney.edu.au/iisme/conference/2016/registration.shtml

How do I know what date my talk or poster is on? All posters are officially presented on the first day of the conference, although you will be able to leave them up for the second day as well. The full list of speakers will be uploaded to the conference website after the early bird registration deadline. Speaker spaces are contingent on registration by this date.

What if I don’t register by the early-bird date? You can still register after the early bird date but if you are a speaker, and you are not registered by 5 August, your speaking spot will be given to someone else and you will be able to present a poster. This is due to intense demand for speaker spots. Registered poster presenters may be offered a speaking opportunity if the currently assigned speakers are not registered by August 5th.

Please let Susan Rowland know on s.rowland1@uq.edu.au if you need more time to organise your registration due to institutional requirements.

Where is the conference? The conference venue is Sir Llew Edwards building (14) at UQ St Lucia – map www.uq.edu.au/maps/?id=280

Where do I park? Parking on the UQ campus is pay and display – map www.pf.uq.edu.au/parking/location.html

Where is the third day of the conference? The Workshop and Discipline Meeting day is at UQ St Lucia on Friday, 30 September (not QUT as previously advertised).

What about the dinner? Should I come? YES!!! Don’t forget to buy your “Viva Bris Vegas” dinner tickets!!! sydney.edu.au/iisme/conference/2016/registration.shtml ...and make sure you wear costume. There will be prizes for best “Bris Vegas” costume (think Las Vegas heyday, pre-Fitzgerald Brisbane, Hollywood glamour, the Rat Pack...)
The dinner flyer is attached.

I have more questions…. That’s OK. Any questions please email askACSME@gmail.com
